Dec. 19. 1933 -

Con. from page 99.

Ollie Margaret Jones was Rebekah. "The Women who made Moses" was a beautiful tableau. The maiden (Frances Taylor) presenting the basket with the infant Moses before Pharaoh's daughter (Lucile Wallace) and Miriam (Ellen Scott) bringing the mother as nurse. Vera Taylor playing the part of Moses' Mother. Laurin Luman took the part of Deborah the Woman who did a man's work. She was shown standing very stately under a palm tree. The parting scene between Ruth, Orpah, and Naomi was a very familiar one because of its resemblance to the picture portraying this parting. Jean Wallace played the part of Ruth, Allen McHair that of Orpah and Naomi was well portrayed by Vera Taylor. "Esther the Young Patriot" was posed by Katherine Scott who made a very realistic Queen Esther before a curtained doorway about to enter the presence of King Mary and Martha. The women who made a home for their Lord were shown, Mary (Allen McHair) seated, a jar of ointment in her hand, Martha (Ollie M. Jones) standing, a tray of food on her shoulder, looking down at Mary.

The last tableau, probably the most beautiful of all; the climax of the whole program was when the lighting effect had been changed and Lucile Wallace, represented Mary the Mother of Jesus, kneeling by the manger. During this scene Mrs Bob Clark sang softly "The Bethlehem Lullaby". Jean Wallace sang "The Gift of the Magi".

Delicious refreshments were served. The guest for the afternoon were the girls who took part in the tableaux and Mrs Jones from Ogden.

2. In the absence of Mrs. Talmadge E. Duncan, Secretary and Mrs. Charles Jones, Treasurer, Mrs. G. C. Peyton called the roll collecting 15 cts for Mrs. Gamble's dues. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.
3. Mrs. N. W. McNeill made the statement that an inmate of the Poor Farm had died and had been buried without a word having been said at the grave. Mrs. O. B. Shearer was asked as chairman of the Poor House Committee to ratify the pastors of the churches hereafter and ask them to say a few words the next time one was buried. Mrs. N. W. McNeill is to ratify her.
4. Mrs. Linam brought the year books which were so beautifully arranged and typed by Mrs. W. A. Gamble, Mrs. W. D. Armitage and Mrs. A. A. Madden. Mrs. Gamble made the lovely books and Mrs. Armitage and Mrs. Madden did the typing. It was done at a cost of sixty cents. The club voted to pay the bill. We wish to thank these ladies for their kindness and hard work. We also thank the program committee for the nice programs.

5. In the absence of Mrs. Duncan, Chairman of Better Homes, Mrs. Peyton presented expense list of B.H.O. The club voted to pay this expense.

Mrs. McNeill said Mrs. Duncan had worked so hard with this and had a lovely exhibit as well as a fine booklet which she wished all could have seen.

6. Mrs. N. B. McNeill and Mrs. Hugh Gillespi gave a report of the District meeting attended by Mrs. McNeill, Mrs. Gillespi and Mrs. G. C. Peyton. They reported that the Raymond Home culture club had won First Place ($25.00) in Garden,

Second in Education and Third in Conservation.

7. There being no further business the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Hugh Gillespie, program leader for this meeting and the following program was rendered.

1. Mrs. Hugh Gillespie read a poem "Come Around the Corner" by Shaemas O'Sheal.

2. Mrs. Cade Gillespie called the names of each lady present. They answered with the name of a wild flower. She then read an article on ancestors of wild flowers. She told us the buttercup is the aristocrat of all flowers and the larkspur and columbine are kin and lots of other interesting things.

3. Miss Pamela Spann played "Dance Rustique" by William Mason. Every one enjoyed this lovely music very much. We love to hear the girls play for us.

4. Mrs. Hugh Gillespie then read a lovely garden entitled "Gardens" by Carl Carmer.

5. Mrs. Lewis Peyton read the life of Mc Dowell the composer. Mrs. Gillespie explained that since this was the beginning of our trip around the world we should of course begin at home.

6. This was followed by three piano selections composed by Mc Dowell. These were played by Misses Myrtle Avis and Dorothy Long. Dorothy played "To a Wild Rose" while Myrtle Avis played "Fireflies and Papillions & Roses". These girls played beautifully and we enjoyed them very much.

7. Mrs. Bob Clark sang "The Old Oaken Bucket", graciously accompanied by her sister Mrs. Chas. Linam. We always enjoy Mrs. Clark's singing but at this time it seemed sweeter if possible than ever.

8. Delicious refreshments were served. In some we will all vote to meet with the Mrs. Gillespies often. During refreshments Mrs. Hugh Gillespie read extracts from "The Land of Long ago". Aunt Jane Goss a Visiting by Eliza

Calvert Hall. We enjoyed both very much.
